Adam Airosto appointed new CEO of SWEDRIVE

Adam is currently CEO at Emballator Växjöplast where he has spent the latest 6 years. Before Emballator he worked 11 years in total within Atlas Copco, where he started as a Sales Engineer and then took on the position as Marketing & Sales Manager, before becoming CEO of the Nordic region during his last 6 years within Atlas Copco.

"I recognize Swedrive as a company with dedicated, experienced and competent employees who develop high quality products within several very interesting sectors. I look forward to continue developing the business and the company further together with the team!"

Adam will join Swedrive and his new position on September 21, 2020 at the latest. The current CEO of Swedrive, Mikael Petersson will remain until June 27, 2020, and then work as CEO of Dellner Polymer Solutions UK.

We sincerely thank Mikael for his contribution and we welcome Adam to his new position.
